

Unknown (Human Fall Flat)

I did not write this.

Tomas Sakalauskas

$\text{♩} = 80$
pizz

Strings

mp
pizz

p

mp

5

St.

p

9

St.

p

13

St.

St.

Cym.

St.

St.

Cym.

17

St.

St.

Tpt.

Cym.

St.

St.

Tpt.

Cym.

21

St.

mp

mf

St.

mp

mf

Tpt.

Cym.

25

St.

mp

29

St.

p

St.

Cym.

33

St.

f

St.

f

Tpt.

f mf

Cym.

Brass

mf

37

St. mp

St.

Tpt. p

Brass p

41

St. mf

St.

Cym.

Brass

45

St.

mp

St.

Cym.

Measures 45-48. The first system shows strings (St.) and cymbals (Cym.). The strings play a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The cymbals play a rhythmic pattern. The second system continues the string melody and bass line. The cymbals continue their pattern.

49

St.

Cym.

mf

Brass

Measures 49-52. The first system shows strings (St.) and cymbals (Cym.). The strings play a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The cymbals play a rhythmic pattern. The second system continues the string melody and bass line. The cymbals continue their pattern. The third system shows brass (Brass) and cymbals (Cym.). The brass play a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The cymbals play a rhythmic pattern.

53

St.

Cym.

Measures 53-56. The first system shows strings (St.) and cymbals (Cym.). The strings play a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The cymbals play a rhythmic pattern. The second system continues the string melody and bass line. The cymbals continue their pattern. The third system shows brass (Brass) and cymbals (Cym.). The brass play a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The cymbals play a rhythmic pattern.

57 rit.

St. mp ppp

St.

Tpt. p ppp